

The 1948 Hanoverian

Dear Dootie,
 I really feel that advice is no good, for experts don't need it and fools won't take it.
 But even so, here's my advice to you.
 "Be yourself!"
 And you'll get through"
 your loving friend,
 Marie (sister)

Hello cutie, Golly, but can't wait til that house party, we're gonna raise hell no you're are a small gal in stay that way hear in everybody'll love ya. like I do. all the luck in the world.

Here's hoping that an Fortune's fair you'll never see a frown and that the corners of your mouth will never be turned down.
 Love always,
 Betty
 Belcher

Dear Dootie,
 Gosh, hasn't this year been wonderful? I'll never forget it! Remember our English class? & Miss Jones? and Sue & Max? I still want you to spend the night with me, but it seems like you never will?

Hang on to Franklin?
 "You got him when you want him!" Keep him there!

Love Always
 Anne Roeder

Hey cutie,
 Mylatah down tonight
 Heemmmmm? Bout 8:30
 Love ya lots, dootie!
 Best of luck to a Sunday school gal.

Dootsie, Chris hopes the best of luck & best wishes to you John & Joan lots of luck to a "crazy" gal.

Dear Dootsie, Every year she's been well year and has here's hoping next year will be even better. You tho' are a real cute gal!!!
Love ya
Betty Craig

Dear Dootsie, you are a crazy girl and I at least have a grand time when I am with you. No matter where you go, you light up the whole place whenever you are!
I wish always,
Prinilla Harris

Dear Dootsie,
God, I'm gonna miss you!
This really has been one sweet year, hasn't it? We shared speech acts and all sorts of II. God, I hope we pass Honey, you're one of the finest girls I know.
Stay just as sweet
as you are now.

Love ya,
Beverly

Happy Birthday to you for me & etc...
Haven't we had fun
this year tho!
This is the last year we're talking to you cause next year we'll be a senior.
Love,
Mary K.

Hey, Dootsie,

Gosh, to begin with you don't know how much your friendship is meant to me. Even though we've had our ups & downs, I've enjoyed it. How about you. Remember our sledding & street walkin'. Well, at least we know, it isn't as bad as it sounds. As I sit here in the — hot sun, waiting for you, I can remember the many times you left me. and don't forget."

"Well, anyhow, I forgot what I started to say. Ha Ha. I bet I fooled you. You didn't think I'd ever finish this, did you? Listen here, you — — — — —, you sure are a sweet ole gal, but you just aren't as sweet as Betty Jean. I mean you're sweet & all that but just not that sweet. I hope I'll be able to write in your annual next year. If "you know who" doesn't "get" me before then. Gosh, I'm really scared to death. I can hardly wait until we go to — — —. You know we probably won't ever get there. darn it!!! But we can dream anyhow. Gosh, wouldn't it be wonderful. Now, Dootsie, don't you let anyone read this cause it's very personal & they wouldn't understand anyhow. (What did I tell you, you noisy thing!) See, I hope we keep on having as much fun next year as we did this one. I sho' did enjoy it even if I was mawring half the time. ~~It~~ Wasn't I stupid. I think so too. Well, I think I'm running out of blue stuff (space, that is) So I'll see you. Be sweet & hurry up & rise your hair.

Love ya,
Nettie

Dearest Bootsie,

Hi! Well, haven't we had fun this year. Raising all sorts of hooz in Spanish Seventh period. I don't see how

Mrs Bellamy put up with us so long, but she did.

I really have enjoyed knowing you this year and I'll be seeing you again next year. Gosh doesn't it seem funny - I'll be a senior and you a junior (I think). Stay as sweet as you are right now and you won't have a bit of trouble in the world. I'll always remember the sables of fun we had at school and after school.
And all the secrets we've told each other - just remember to keep them to yourself. Loads of luck and success to a very, very smart girl. See you this summer.
(Don't forget to call me sometime - I still live at the same place. Same old telephone)

Love You
Carolyn

P.S.

How's every little thing with you & Franklin? Now
I'll be in nice - Keep up the good work -

Well honey, the house party is what on waiting on. Guess she fun all going so have all all going so nice so much boys. But it's going so fast all through see summer Keep up all see good work so cute and quite bound so
min. Love ya

DURING the past four years it has been a privilege and a pleasure to work with the members of the class of 1948. You are leaving us, and we trust with an awareness of the tremendous opportunities and responsibilities which lie ahead. Your teachers and those responsible in the administration of your high school have urged you to acquire those common and essential needs indispensable in a democratic society. During these high school years, you have grown in your ability to think rationally. As you go from us, we believe that you are prepared to face clearly and wisely the many situations which will arise. Continue to grow.

Dearest !!!

I hope you're satisfied !! (I don't like this pen.)

What do I say now?

Okay, here goes -

Dottie Dottie, we've really had some grand times together, no? Everyone usually says that, I know, but this time it really means something! From the times that we had so much fun on Fifth St. when you liked Sonny. Till now - you've been one of the best friends a gal could have. Dottie, I know you'll always get the best in life 'cause I don't think I know of one person who deserves it more. She had so much fun last summer, didn't we? - When we used to go to the beach to see - one - Julian Richard Rogers - Mar. I had it bad, no? But I think this one's just a little bit sweeter, cuter, etc - Dottie, I want to thank you for all those times you talked to me when I was so down in the dumps about "44" - I don't think you'll ever know how much you helped me - but the only thing I know of to say is - from the bottom of my heart, - thanks!! - & I love you for it -

You've got one of the cutest personalities I've ever met. I hope you always stay as crazy as you are now!! (That was meant sweetly.)

I think this is enough -

See you enjoying in my beer next we mustn't

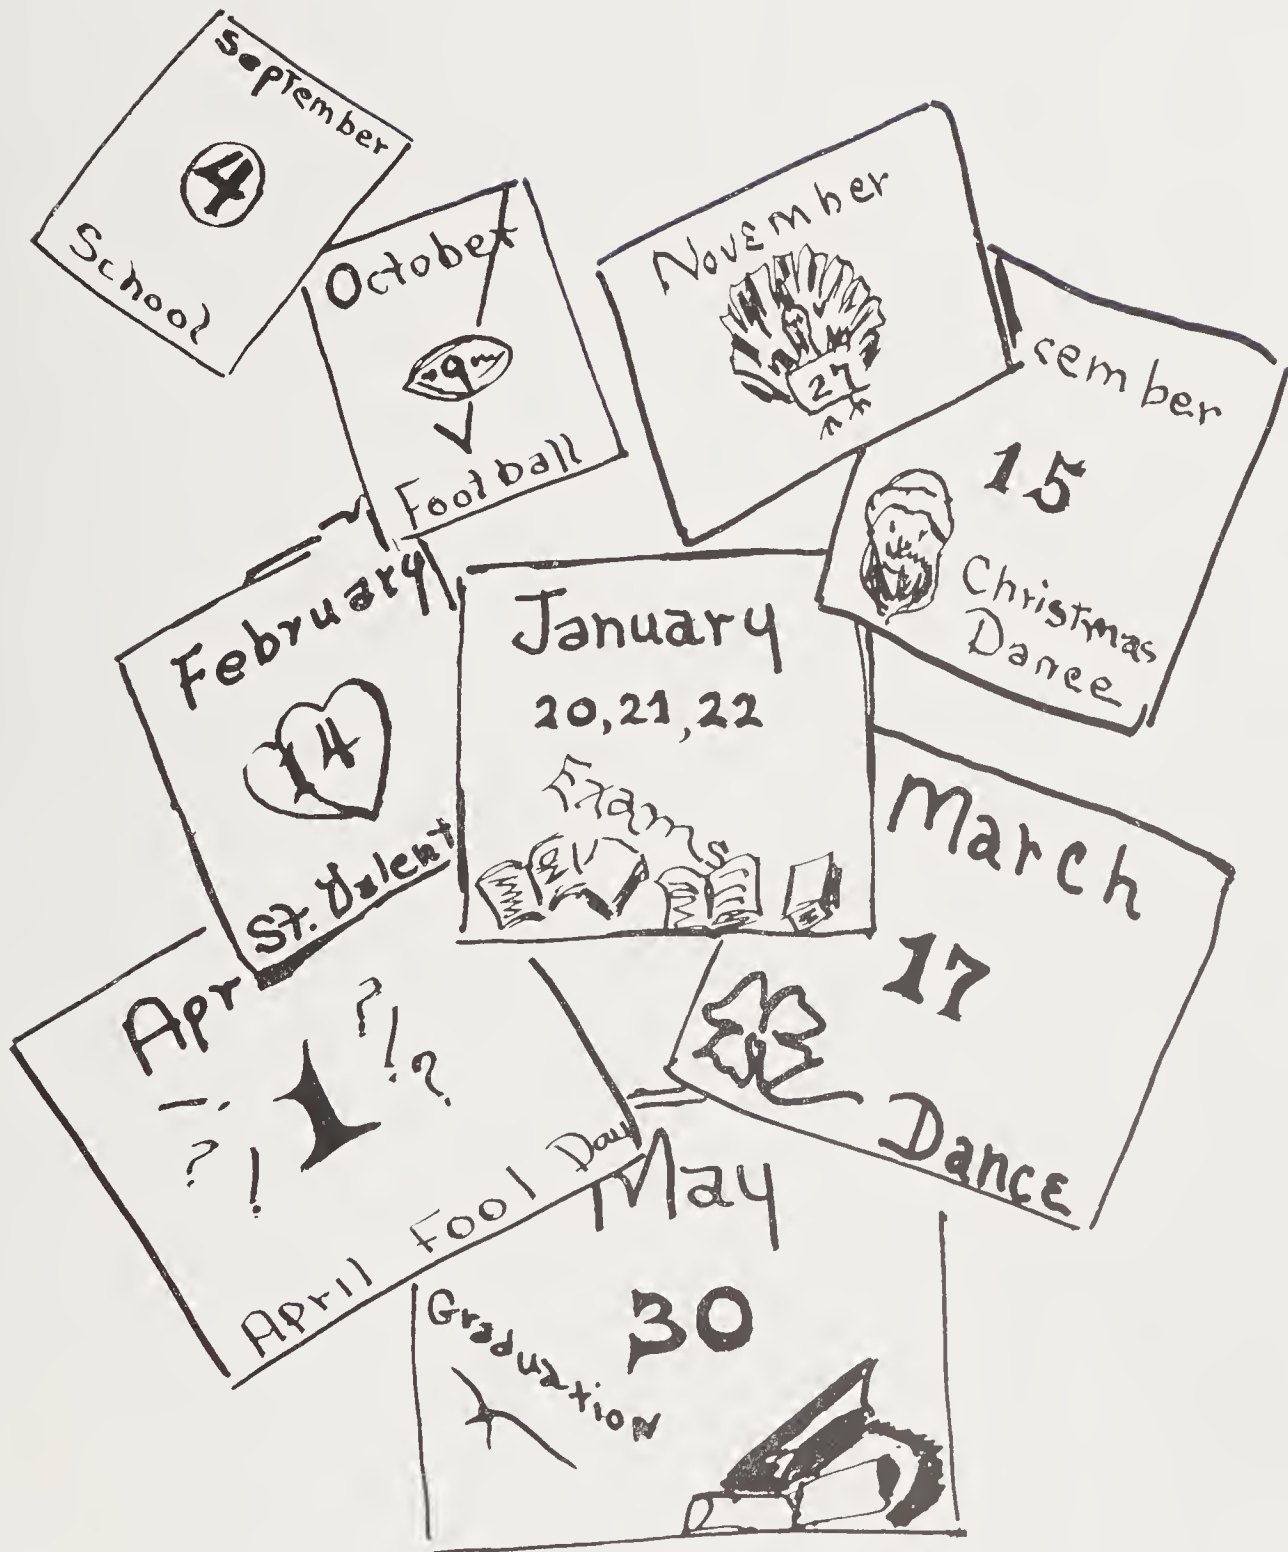

Do that!!

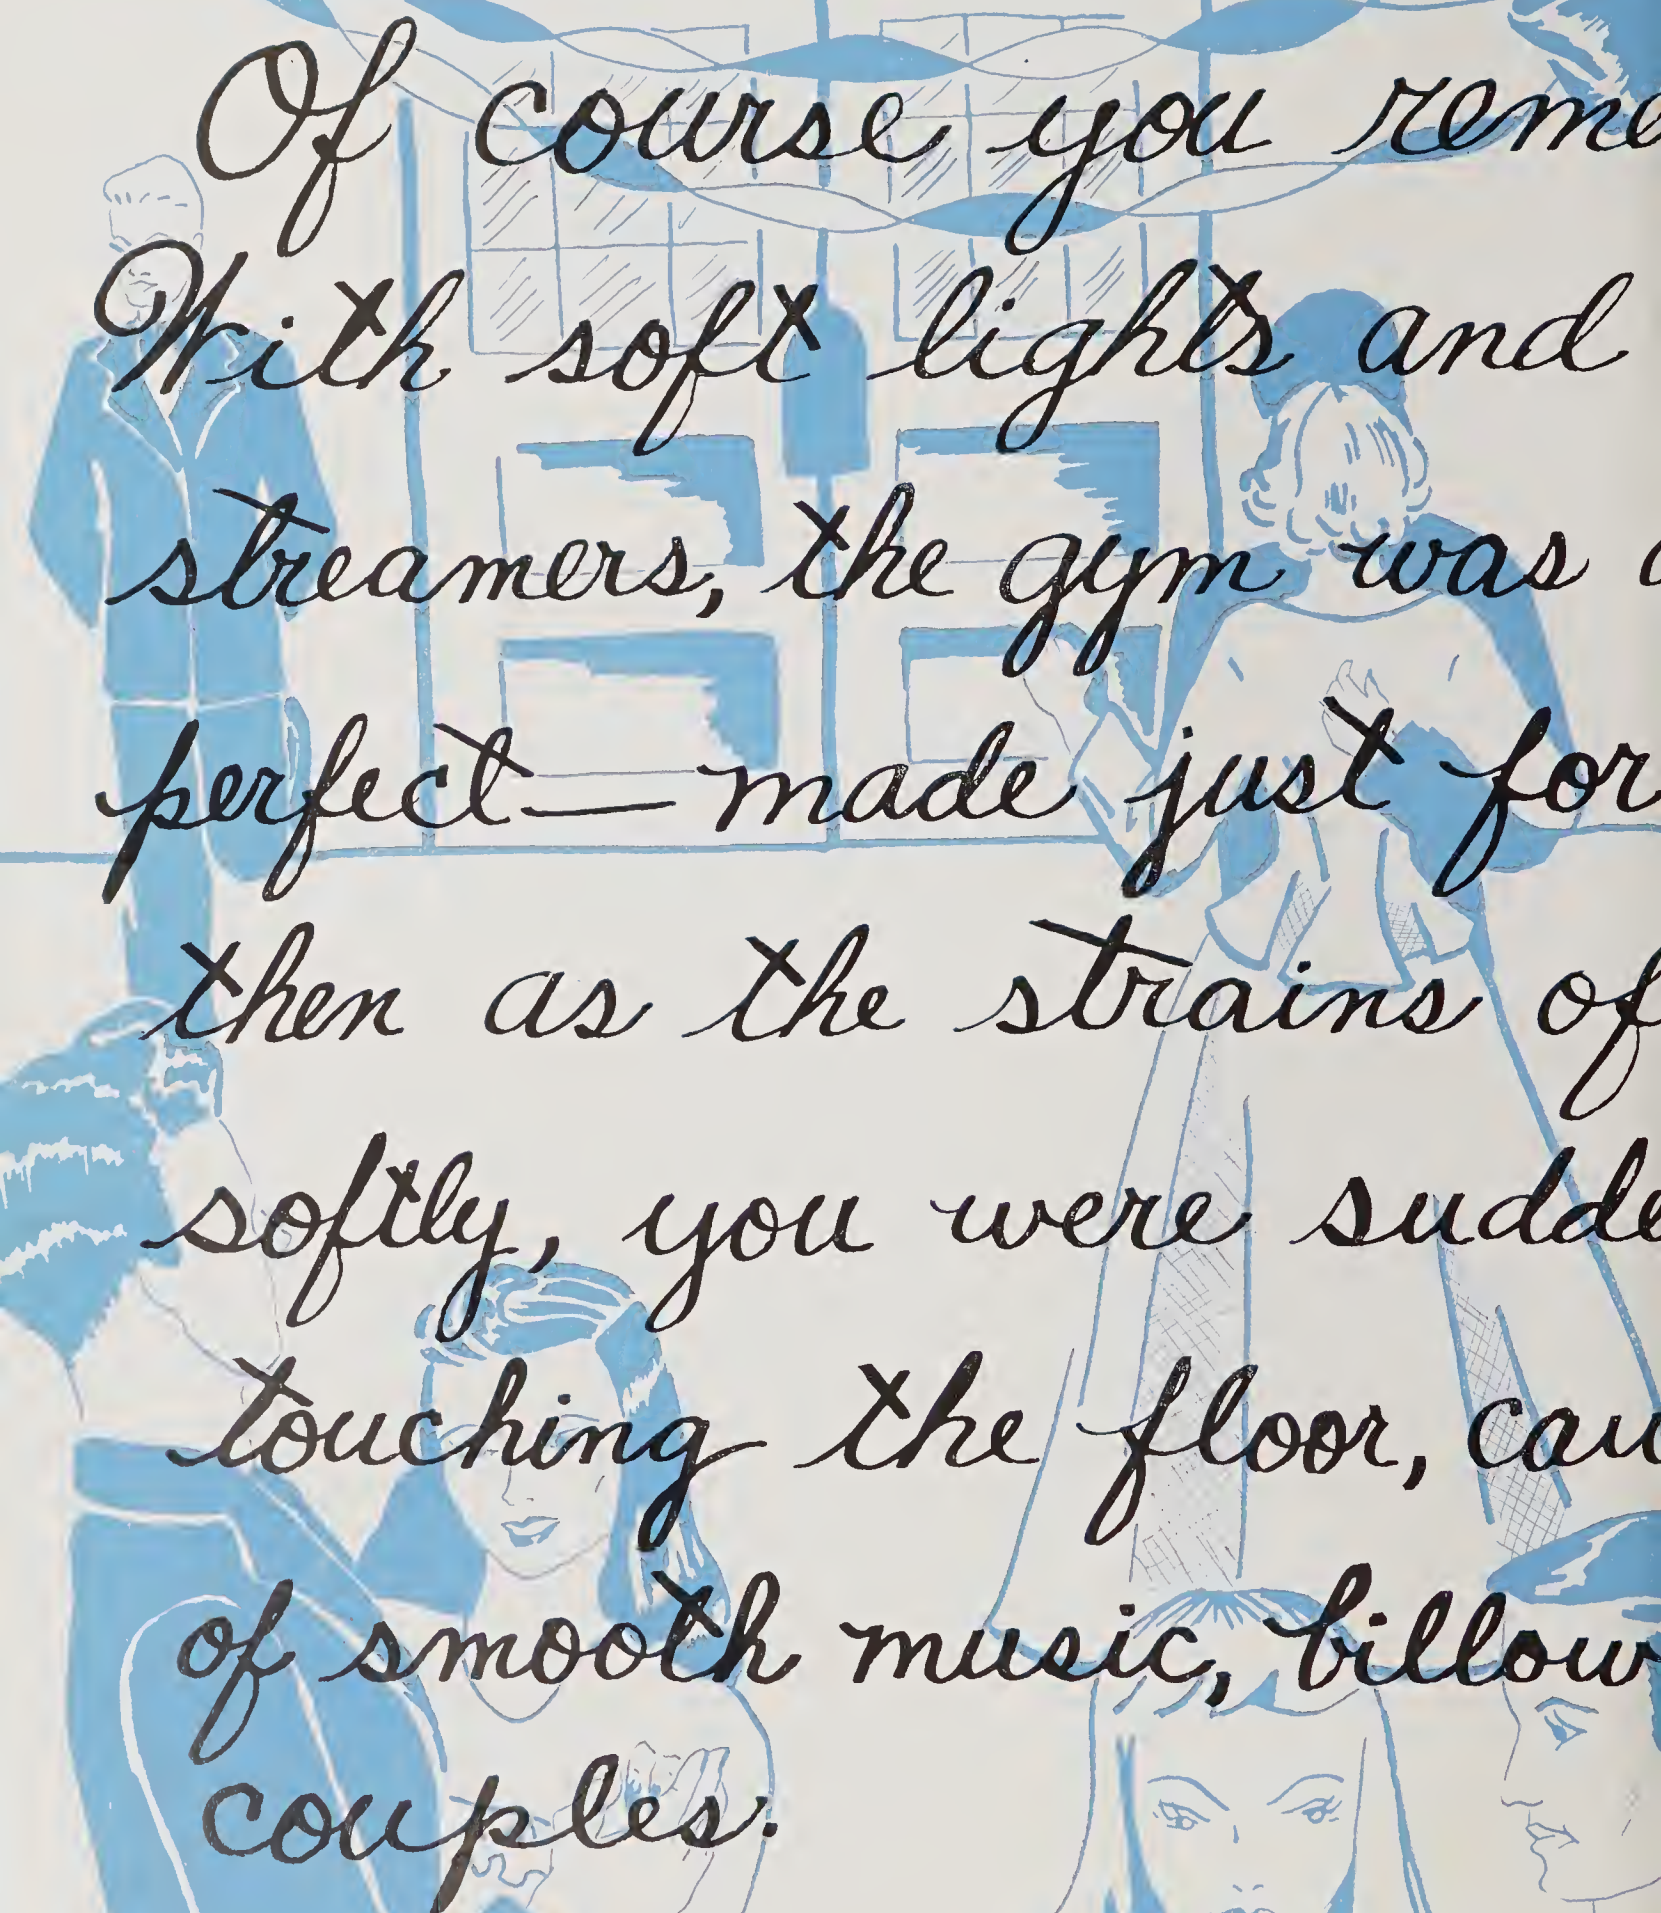

I hope you always have fun with -

I love ya -

Bye now - cutie -

The Class History

Freshman Day, 1964!

Several of us, the class of '48, gathered on the Senior Steps and watched the incoming freshmen wander about dolefully. As they recognized Malcolm Crawford, who had abandoned his job as President of the United States for a few days, and Betty Britz, who had torn herself away from Broadway long enough to pay ye ole N.H.H.S. a visit, some of them shyly wandered up with pencils and paper and got autographs. Mike Austin, the famous coach, was holding a little private coaching class with some of the boys.

When the freshmen had finally been called to assembly, Malcolm said wistfully, "Remember when we were green little freshmen? It really doesn't seem like twenty years ago."

"I certainly do." Betty put in quickly, "We were just as shy and scared as these freshmen are today." "But," Mike added, "When we kinda got into the swing of things, we really gave the teachers a hard time."

There was silence among the small crowd. We were traveling back over many years. We were remembering things during our high school career that hadn't seemed so important at the time.

We were remembering our first election. Jean Bobbitt was elected president and did a wonderful job. The freshman Dance was the first of the freshman activities. Upper classmen began to notice us for the first time. We got acquainted with the juniors and seniors and really began to enjoy our first year in high school. During our freshman year our constitution was revised under the excellent leadership of Raynor Newbold.

"I'll never forget V-E Day, a gloomy rainy day in May of our Sophomore year," Malcolm said thoughtfully. That was a wonderful day in our lives. We all went down town with the cheering crowds and later to our churches to thank God for the end of terrible bloodshed.

Our sophomore dance turned out to be quite a hit. Playing along with the Valentine theme, we held elections for a King and Queen of Hearts. Jim Gibson and Jean Bobbitt received the honors, and together with their court they reigned elegantly over one of the schools really wonderful dances.

Betty said eagerly, "We should term our junior year 'excitement galore' I think that was really our most exciting year." "We had fun that year fighting the Civil War with Mrs. Brock," added Mike.

"Yes," said Malcolm, "We left General Grant fighting the battle of Vicksburg to watch the snow flakes that were falling thick and fast."

"I remember some of the teachers had to resort to pulling the shades down. I guess we were friends when it came to snow even though it didn't stay long.

In one of the most exciting basketball games we ever saw, we defeated Greensboro for the N. C. State Championship. We were champs in more ways than one. Our Junior Play turned out to be champion. Dear Papa was not so dear, but he pulled off a smash hit for the juniors. With wonderful cooperation from the class, we had a lot of fun putting it on.

We tried a new idea in our school for the Junior-Senior, a card dance. The gym was decorated in the form of a pirate ship. We entertained the Seniors well, and every one seemed to have a mighty fine time.

"Malcolm," said Betty, "You worked mighty hard during your senior year, and you really made a wonderful Student Body President."

One of the projects of which we were so proud during our senior year was planting azaleas around the building as a living memorial to N.H.H.S. alumni killed in action. A plaque was inserted into the Senior Steps in honor of the two boys from our school who won one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a military man, the Congressional Medal of Honor.

"We have some wonderful memories of our high school days."

"But the thing I hated most," said Malcolm, "was to see June come and us go. I knew we'd never have fun as we did leaving assembly first, and going to dances and games. I wish we could do it all over again."

"Well, we can get a start by going in and watching the freshmen tremble as they sit in assembly."

And then we walked slowly, wistfully up the Senior Steps.

The Last Will and Testament

Realizing the uncertainties of our days in N. H. S. and being of sound body and comparatively sound mind we, the members of the Class of '48, take this means of making known our wishes concerning our properties real or personal of which we may leave possessed. We bequeath the following:

First: To the Juniors we leave our love for New Hanover High School in hopes that they will use it wisely and make their last year as happy as ours was.

Second: To the school as a whole we leave the faculty, our various ways and means of cutting school, and our autographed desks.

Third: We, the senior girls, leave to all classes our ways and means of flirting, to be used only when needed.

Fourth: As individuals we bequeath our meager possessions to the Class of '49.

We, Don Peterson and Pete Acree, do will and bequeath our way with the girls to Ray Haas and Randy McIver with doubt that they will ever need them.

I, Leonard Colley, will my ability to dodge Miss Sanders in the hall to Bill Garrabrant.

I, Leroy Bradshaw, leave my friend "Kilroy" to Maurice Moore and Teasie Morrison.

I, Ethel Pendleton, will my red hair and freckles to Joan Waurshauer and Ruth Avery knowing that they would probably get along just as well without them.

I, Catherine Crowe, leave my intelligence to Jean and Joan Pullen to be divided equally between them.

I, Malcolm Crawford, bequeath my ability to get people into trouble to Larry Dagenheart in hopes that he won't use it as much as I did.

I, Betty Dixon, do will my charm to Shirlene Conrad to be passed on if not needed.

I, "Doc" Venters, leave my wicked looking eyes to H. L. Keith.

I, Jerry Southerland, do will and bequeath my personality and popularity to Kent Thompson.

I, Jim Gibson, leave my manly shoulders to Howard Penton to be worn at all times.

I, Bill Strickland, leave my looks to Jimmy Oldham.

I, Marianne Mann, leave my chewing gum to Audrey Strong.

I, Cathy MacRae, leave my dependability and my ability to work hard to Joan Jacobi.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the said Class of '48 do hereunto set our hand and affix our seal.

Signed: Betsy Williams

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said Class of '48, as, for, and to be their last will and testament in the presence of us, we do hercunto subscribe our name as witnesses thereof.

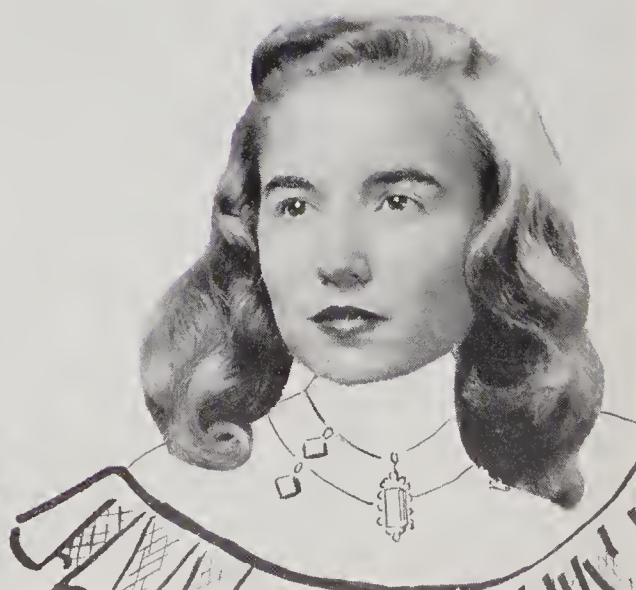

Signed: Catherine Crowe

Hey Doolzie. Honey,

How's my best little ole' friend getting along this afternoon at 6:00 o'clock? Well, my feet are freezing 'cause I haven't got any shoes to put on. Poor me !!! Hope Daddy comes over here tonight, and I know good & darn well he likes you. I know he does.!!

Doolzie, Darling. You'll never know how much I've enjoyed knowing all these years, I only wish I had of know you from the 1st grade on. P. I think you are precious, and I love you, & really so, you probably think I'm lying to you, but everything I've written in here is from the bottom of my heart. I think you've got one of the best personalities of anyone I know of. More written been where do you get so many? I wish I had half as many as you have. but clothes that is. I don't mean that the way some of you will take. Everybody likes you, I'll swear. I wish ^{hell} of the people that likes you liked me. You are one of the best friends anyone can have 'cause there's not a better one any where. Mother thinks you are getting pretty, but I guess you knew that already. The thing I like about you Doolzie is that with everything you've got you're not worried at all. Sounds like on big snooty but it's not really. Best of luck with everyone and everything always

The 4-H Club is a national organization. In fact, it is the largest national organization for boys and girls in the world.

In New Hanover High School, the 4-H Club is only beginning. A club was organized for the first time in 1946, and had a small membership of eleven members. This year there are almost twice as many members, the membership being twenty-one. Besides the 4-H Club in New Hanover High School there are clubs in five other schools. There are approximately three hundred 4-H Club members in New Hanover County.

A girl chosen as a member of the Hi-Y must have a high scholastic record and maintain and practice Christian principles. Through our years as Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and now Seniors, we have grown together while striving for both individual and community goals. Whether working or playing, we have loved it all.

Dramatics Club

Mary Finburg	President
Robert McCarl	Vice-President
Evelyn Goldberg	Secretary-Treasurer
Miss Grace Robbins	Director

Realizing that the school and stage are today very strongly influencing each other, the Thespians this year have sought as new members students who have shown a desire to enter whole-heartedly into all constructive activities of a dramatics club. The organization has appealed to its members through special programs on pantomime; voice and diction; workshops in costuming, scenic designing, and make-up; student directed plays; and public performances to develop a membership with quickened imaginations, better developed bodies and voices, and a keener appreciation of the art of the theater.

As the annual goes to press, the Thespians are in the midst of final rehearsals for the highlight of their fall season, Seven Sisters, a fast moving, colorful Hungarian comedy of three acts.

The interest of all Thespians has been greatly stimulated this year because of additional equipment and plans for the organization of an honorary dramatics group. Membership in the new honor society will be achieved only through outstanding work in actual acting and producing. The Thespians in cooperation with the new honorary dramatic society hope to produce a finer theatrical taste among New Hanover students and a desire for better plays and "better acting."

The O. Henry Literary Society is one of the largest and most popular clubs in the school. The purpose of the club is to create a greater interest in contemporary and classic literature.

Each year the Society gives a dance, and the profit gained is used for awards in its annual short story contest, which any high school student may enter.

Any student with an interest in literature is invited to become a member of this club.

Editor and Assistant

CHARLES RUSSELL Editor-in-Chief
ELIZABETH POPLIN Assistant Editor

You can never tell from their smiles what heavy responsibilities they have carried in heading the publication of the HANOVERIAN. To plan the book, work out individual pages, assist in the work of every department, draw to scale in the dummies, and keep the work moving on schedule have been a few of their jobs. In addition, Elizabeth has directed the art work and has done a big part of the work. She has been assisted by Ann Post and Leroy Bradshaw. Each of these have done several of the drawings. They had to be perfect too—just ready for the engraver. What talent! Charles has kept his poise and his good humor. His personality as “big boss” has kept everyone happy.

Johnny Crowley, has been our pocketbook. He, as business manager, has had an immense job. Raising the money has loomed before him like a mountain, and keeping his ledger balanced has taxed his mathematical ability. Catherine MacRae and Libba Roe have had charge of subscriptions. That “day in and day out” drive has not always been fun. They both feel that they could write receipts in their sleep. All three of these have had the additional task of securing ads sufficient to fill up the holes in the budget. They hope you’ll read the ads.

Business Staff

CATHERINE MacRAE

ELIZABETH ROE

JOHNNY CROWLEY

Jean Bobbitt, as feature editor, seemed to have the flowery side of the deal, but this was not true. Glenn Hufham and Catherine Crowe, all helped Jean with senior activities and verses. Catherine Crowe wrote rhymes faster than she can talk. Glenn and Jean found themselves making and filing almost a complete case history of 300 seniors. Meanwhile Betsy Williams was groaning over the history, will and prophecy. She had ample exercise for her wit. When Jean finished all the proof reading, she wondered why she thought this would be fun.

Going half crazy seeing that everyone had a picture taken, Beth Harriss was always kept hopping as photographic editor. If she wasn't checking files, she was writing to Mr. Bryan Smithey, our photographer. Every picture had to be identified, alphabetized and filed. Helping Beth were Nancy Trask, Ann Post, Eugene McCarty, and Leroy Bradshaw. Nancy kept accurate check on the appointments. Ann and Eugenia ran themselves mad finding those who failed to meet appointments. The greatest headache of the photographic group was to see that not a single necessary picture for the HANOVERIAN was missing. Leroy rounded out the work by collecting snapshots. Here is an expression of the feeling of the entire staff during picture-taking days.

BETSY WILLIAMS

"Does everyone know what she's supposed to do now?" The group of editors and their assistants nod dazed assent, dazed because we have just been through a week's schedule of annual pictures in ten minutes. A little behind, I frantically whisper to Jean, "when did she say that last Latin Club picture is to be?"

"Elizabeth." Now she turns on me. "I'm making you entirely responsible for seeing that these other people know what they're to do."

"Yes M'am." I tie a string around my tenth finger.

Everything is set. Everything is accounted for. Nothing can go amiss. We, the Hanoverian staff of '48, have thought of everything.

"The best laid plans of mice and men, sometimes go astray." Isn't that what the philosopher said? He must have been assistant to the editor-in-chief in some previous incarnation.

Their was only one thing we did not leave time for in making out our schedule. Rain. Monday morning a torrential downpour made any thought of freshmen pictures absurd. "Oh well." I consoled myself in home room, scowling at the drops that beat against the window pane, "we can still take individual pictures."

But could we? The time is now second period. Let's look in at the auditorium. Katie Jo Cantmakeit is scheduled for a picture. So is Wallace Dontcare and Julia Fergit and others who shall be nameless. Where are they?

The desperate photographer's assistant sends someone to drag them out of class. Bewildered, Katie Jo straggles into the auditorium with an I-didn't-know-I-was-supposed-to-have-a-picture-taken look pasted on her face.

"The schedule has been posted in the home rooms three days, the assistant patiently explains as she digs her nails into the top of the desk.

ANN POST

Wallace Dontcare presents himself for a picture, clad appropriately in a sport shirt and after all those announcements put in the bulletin: Quote "Boys will wear ties and coats." End quote.

On Tuesday morning there is more rain. If it doesn't stop, I think I'll resign my position on the staff, go crazy, and drown myself. It would be easy enough to do with all this surplus water around. A fresh downpour greets my decision. I jerk my kerchief tighter to protect my annual-picture curls. Looking around my classes during the next periods, I can tell you exactly which girls have pictures scheduled. How? All of them have their heads swathed in kerchiefs to protect those curls so essential to an attractive picture against the encroaching dampness.

At fifth period the disconsolate staff assembles in 215 to discuss the probability or rather the improbability of fair weather for Wednesday. Seated at two desks pulled close together for purposes of consultation.

We spend an hour arranging the schedule. I grab a pen and paper and prepare to make a schedule which can be blotted out entirely by windswept skies and rain.

Wednesday it rained and I RE-arranged the schedule again.

Nothing lasts forever though; and when Thursday and Friday showed up, they were blue-and-white days. About these two full days of picture-taking, I can tell you very little. I think I was in a semi-conscious state. Someone answering to the name Elizabeth Poplin directed groups of milling students, checked schedules, wrote tickets, waited for groups to appear, answered the same questions ninety-nine times and, in one case, even helped carry the camera! But the details are mercifully an unreality to this editor.

Club Editors and Typists

OLIVIA LYNCH

SHIRLEY PHILLIPS

JANE TROY

BETTY LOU LYNDON

SUE BONEY

Shirley Phillips as club editor, with Olivia Lynch, Sue Boney and Eugenia McCarty, had the responsibility of completing the section for classes, clubs, and all organizations. There were weeks of collecting information and long hours of preparing it for the printer, drawing plans to scale, and filing with the correct pictures. Shirley kept smiling and driving. Betty Lou Lyndon and Jane Troy typed for this group as well as for the senior section. They were in constant demand and do not have enough strength left to speak for themselves. They can only hold up fingers worn to stubs. Olivia has written the following impression of some of the work.

IMPRESSIONS OF MY JOB ON THE HANOVERIAN STAFF

On the day when I got my schedule changed so that I might work on the Hanoverian Staff at fifth period, I had no idea what was before me. At first the work wasn't too hard; I was made Assistant Club Editor, and I guess that the idea of having a title helped make the work lighter. That was at first, but soon the novelty of it all wore off; and I found myself hard at work.

My first job was to get a list of the clubs and organizations and the presidents of these. Finally, after practically going mad, I managed to complete this task only to begin a much more difficult one of having to contact all of these people to find out just what kind of picture their club desired to have in the annual. The gathering of the information was very slow and tedious, but I managed to do it with the help of Shirley and Sue.

Next came the filling out of the little slips which excused people from the various classes when they had to have a picture taken. I was faithfully helped by Charles. I'll never forget the day I told him to fill out about seventy-five of the dear little things for the Glee Club, only to find out later that that particular picture was scheduled for home room period, and that no one needed slips at that time. I could have cheerfully shot myself at that point, and I know Charles would have been only too glad to assist me! Each time I have begun to complete one job, I have been drowned in another. I seem to have been a "handy man" all around. Why I've even helped the business staff.

"Poor John and Olivia," our advisor would say as she watched us bend over the ledger trying to make the book balance. What a job it was! Add, subtract, multiply, and divide—try as we did, we never could seem to make things come out right!

Seriously speaking, however, I have thoroughly enjoyed working on the Hanoverian Staff. I know that the main reason for this lies in the fact that I have been able to work with such fine people—all of the other staff members. It has meant hard work and plenty of it, but I wouldn't give anything for the grand experience which I feel I have acquired through it. I will cherish the memory of these happy days forever.

The whole staff worked together and found the work enjoyable. They have produced an annual of which they are proud. They have put it into the memories of yesteryear.
